About Us

We are a community of donors committed to making our region and the world a better place to call home.

The Foundation is a public charity, 501(c)(3) nonprofit, with more than $435 million in charitable assets composed of more than 950 individual current funds. Each fund represents a unique charitable giving partnership with an individual, family, business or nonprofit organization.

Excellence. Accountability. Impact.™

Dear Friends,

Hussien Y. Shousher
Chair

When a group of visionary community leaders came together nearly a half century ago to create what is now Greater Toledo Community Foundation, they did so with the understanding that their work was for the future. Future challenges yet to be met. Future children yet to be educated. Future institutions yet to be created and sustained – a future they might not even live to experience.

This year, we've seen vividly that the future is here.

The future our founders envisioned, of the ability to provide for the needs of our community through well-managed capital assets, is here –and well-attested to in this report. The Foundation has grown to include thousands of community partners as fundholders and contributors. Over time, their generosity and vision, coupled with the Foundation's disciplined stewardship, have enabled $21.9 million in grants to be distributed in our community and beyond in this past year alone.

At the heart of this growth have been people like the two donors profiled on pages 4 and 5 of this report. Gifts from families like the Brells and individuals like Mary Baird are the essence of the "community" in Greater Toledo Community Foundation. They are people who have lived and worked in our community, and whose vision of the future includes making possible for others the same advantages they've enjoyed in their lifetimes.

Keith Burwell
President

The future is here in another way, too: Our future is not somewhere else, but right here in northwest Ohio. Our grantee story profiles how GTCF is helping to build a better future for all in our region – including the historically underserved – through support of collaborative community development endeavors like JumpStart. JumpStart's potential for significant returns on investment in entrepreneurs illustrates how community development has become an important focus for GTCF leadership.

As we look ahead to celebrating half a century of growth and accomplishment, we also recognize that none of this would have been possible without the countless hours invested by our volunteer leadership and others in the community. We are deeply grateful for the gifts of time, talent and treasure that have allowed GTCF to meet the challenges we face right now, and those that lie ahead.

Sincerely,

JUMPSTART

building a better community

A “disconnected entrepreneur” might sound like someone running a company that isn’t tapped into what’s happening around them. And in a way, that’s true — but not the way you might suppose.

“Disconnected entrepreneurs” are those who have historically lacked access to the three essentials of successful businesses — capital, services and connections. Black-, Latinx- and women-owned businesses often find themselves without these three essentials and, as a result, may struggle to succeed.

Connecting our region’s enterprising but under-resourced business owners with these critical resources was the goal of Greater Toledo Community Foundation’s multi-year grants to JumpStart.

ESP provides insights for young companies

JumpStart had its beginnings 20 years ago in Cleveland as a venture to support tech startups in northeast Ohio. Backed by both state and community support — including major grants from the Ohio Department of Development (ODOD) and KeyBank — JumpStart leads the ODOD’s Entrepreneurial Services Provider (ESP) program across Northern Ohio.

Its success with the ESP in Northeast Ohio made it the ideal organization to step into the gap in 2018, when a new leader was sought for northwest Ohio’s ESP, NextTech. Partnering with Promedica and other organizations, JumpStart opened an office in Toledo and began leading the ESP in Northern Ohio.

Over time, JumpStart also became highly experienced in serving disconnected entrepreneurs.

“We are not exclusively a minority business accelerator,” explained Amy Haschak, JumpStart’s director of Toledo operations, “but a lot of our work bridges that gap.” She added, “Our mission is to unlock the potential of entrepreneurship to transform entire communities. We find that some communities have more challenges than others — so making sure that everyone has access to resources is a JumpStart priority.”

GTCF and BGC partner for capital, services and connection

An initial Community Funds Impact grant from GTCF provided funds to support JumpStart's work, including its centerpiece program, the Business Growth Collaborative (BGC). Convened and facilitated by JumpStart, the BGC currently comprises 12 independent nonprofits with a history of well-proven programming for business owners. The collaborative supports entrepreneurs in varying essential ways — including operational and technical support, financing and mentoring.

Addressing a shortage of mentors for disconnected entrepreneurs was a particular focus for the BGC. The GTCF Community Funds Impact grant, which extended over four years and helped to seed the BGC's mentoring program, was key to attracting skilled participants. The initial outcomes were so successful, GTCF also awarded JumpStart a

The BGC also structures their client support by establishing milestones and tracking their clients' progress toward those goals.

Education plays a vital role

Structured training is also key to JumpStart's success model. "We do Value Proposition and Market Validation workshops for very early-stage businesses," said Amy. "These provide a firm foundation for new entrepreneurs while also identifying business ideas that are not well thought-out or involve entry into an already saturated market." Other programs available through JumpStart include one-on-one advising and a multi-week "Blueprint" program for start-up planning.

JumpStart clients with established businesses that meet a revenue threshold and other criteria can participate in their Impact program, a 12-week intensive limited to five businesses per cohort. Impact participants meet weekly with two advisors, a JumpStart staff member, and a volunteer from the community. At the end of the program, cohort members do a pitch showcase in front of judges from the community. "The top pitch is awarded $10,000 to support their business; the rest get $2,500," said Amy, "so they are literally paid to enter the program. These and other JumpStart investments in entrepreneurs pay handsome dividends in terms of area business growth, employment and tax revenues," she added.

State funding leverages donor dollars

JumpStart's communication director, Vicki McDonald, noted that their funding structure provided even greater opportunity for impact. "Our grant from the state of Ohio has to be matched dollar for dollar," she said. "So, to receive funds, we must raise the equivalent funds, giving us the unique ability to leverage our financial contributions."

"We also wouldn't have gotten as far as we have without our volunteers," she added. "There are many exciting ways to support area entrepreneurs through JumpStart and make a deep economic impact on the community."

grant through the Equity and Access Initiative Fund. The additional award provided capital for minority owned businesses and entrepreneurs along with ongoing support for a relationship manager at a BGC member organization who focuses on diversity, equity and inclusion matters for clients.

GTCF's Vice President of Community Investments, Patrick Johnston, explained: "Connecting area nonprofits for greater efficacy is a major focus of the Foundation. The goal of the BGC was to bring together existing groups with well-proven track records to help them be more efficient. It was an ideal fit."

Amy described the game-changing role of the BGC: "It's not uncommon for organizations to work alongside each other and make referrals, but then they don't know what happens after that. The Business Growth Collaborative comes together in a more sophisticated way, with monthly meetings to discuss clients that need assistance and referrals."

Memorial gifts sustain the work of a loved one

Many individuals who have established funds with Greater Toledo Community Foundation have come to know Bridget Brell Holt as a Foundation staff member and advocate for managing family philanthropy through GTCF. So it was only natural, when her mother, Joanne Seidel Brell, was about to lose her life to cancer that her father, Tom Brell, decided to establish a designated fund in his wife's honor.

"When she became my wife, I was very lucky," recalled Tom, reflecting on his partner of more than 50 years. "She was an amazingly talented woman, and she never sat still. But she also got on well with people and almost never said an unkind word about anyone. And she raised three wonderful daughters, too."

As the wife of a third-generation resident of Maumee, two causes of particular importance to Joanne were the Maumee Valley Historical Society and St. Joseph's School. She supported both with gifts and volunteer time — so the family chose a designated fund specifically to help finance these organizations.

"Joanne knew about the fund before she passed, including the benefitting organizations," said Tom. "She was a big supporter of both the school and the historical society, so her fund continues that support now that she's passed."

Said Bridget's sister, Gretchen, "One thing we love about the fund is that we can honor her memory with contributions for family birthdays and holidays." She noted that when their sister

Becky passed in 2014, all the donations in her memory were contributed to the fund.

"Since Mom died in 2005, her fund has grown tremendously," observed Bridget, "and it will go on in perpetuity. We like that it makes giving very simple, and if either the school or historical society cease to exist, the Foundation will continue to honor her memory by supporting similar organizations."

"Mom was from a very comfortable family and contributing to society was very important," said Gretchen. "Giving back to the community was just a way of life — they served as well as gave. With this fund, we all can continue that tradition."

Fueling the fire for future generations

“Education is not the filling of the pail but the lighting of a fire.”

— William Butler Yeats

As a teacher, Mary J. Baird would often take inspiration from a poster in her classroom emblazoned with these words. With the legacy scholarship fund she established in 2021, Mary will keep that flame burning brightly for former students of Sylvania’s Timberstone Junior High School.

“I’m excited about the sparkle in kids’ eyes,” she said, reflecting on her teaching experiences. “I taught 7th-grade English for 15 years, and then I was asked to develop a new gifted education program.” At first, Mary split her time between English and gifted ed at McCord Junior High — but when the new Timberstone Junior High was built, she took on gifted ed full time. “Everything began with the idea of creativity,” she said. “It gave the kids an open door — and when they walked through it, they flew from there.”

Mary also developed closer relationships with her Timberstone students than she was previously able to do. “I had the same kids for three years — 6th through 8th grade — so I knew them and their families.” She also knew of their unspoken hopes for their future. “There are so many kids that have quiet, private dreams of what they want to do in their lives — but if they don’t have the finances to take that leap, they can’t.”

After her retirement, Mary pondered for some time what she could do with her estate that would have meaning. “I was the last remaining member of my family,” she explained, “and in the back of my mind, I had those sparkling eyes. There are a lot of sparkling eyes out there who need to fly — what better purpose than to give them a springboard for college?”

With the help of her attorney, who suggested Mary work with Greater Toledo Community Foundation, she established a legacy scholarship fund, designated for former Timberstone students who will attend a four-year college or university. A committee of Timberstone teachers appointed by the school principal will determine each year’s awardees. “I called Jesse Stock at GTCF and he took the reins. It was easy after that,” she noted.

“My parents were so generous with us as kids and education was #1,” Mary said of her choice to fund the futures of others. “My father created a trust for us. Because so much love was funneled my way, I feel it is my responsibility to continue what they did.”

Mary Baird continues her love of teaching as a docent at the local historical society near her new home in northern Michigan.

CREATING A FUND

Take a moment to consider the important part you might play in Greater Toledo Community Foundation's work by creating a charitable fund. There are a number of ways to get started, and we invite you to explore them with your family, your professional advisor and with Foundation staff members.

The Foundation offers a variety of ways for you to make donations to reach your philanthropic goals. You can establish your own fund at the Foundation either during your lifetime or through your estate plan. All grants distributed from your fund — today and in the future — are awarded to charities, as determined by you, in the name of your fund.

Your gift to the Foundation may be made in many forms. Corporations and businesses are limited to gifts of cash, securities, closely-held stock, limited partnership interests and real estate. You and your family have even more options to consider.

Vehicles for Giving

A cash gift is tax deductible as provided under current law.

Donations of appreciated publicly-traded securities are accepted. This type of gift avoids capital gains tax and allows the maximum tax deduction for the full market value of the gift. The Foundation also accepts closely-held stock and limited partnership interests.

A bequest in your will is a simple way to leave a lasting legacy.

A life insurance policy can be changed to designate the Foundation as the owner and/or beneficiary of a policy.

Retirement fund accounts are often your largest asset.

You can give all or part of these assets to the Foundation, both during your lifetime and/or at your death.

Real estate (land, primary residences, vacation homes or farm land) can be donated to the Foundation and deducted at full fair market value, up to 30 percent of your adjusted gross income. The Foundation sells the real estate and the net proceeds capitalize a new fund or are added to an existing fund. Similarly, tangible personal property can be donated to the Foundation, which is also then sold.

A charitable remainder trust allows you (or other named beneficiaries) to receive lifetime income. Upon your death, the remaining principal creates a fund at the Foundation. You receive an immediate charitable deduction for a portion of the gift and avoid capital gains tax.

A charitable lead trust creates income for the Foundation for a specified period, after which the remaining principal is distributed to named beneficiaries. Gift and estate taxes are reduced with this type of gift.

Transfer of a private foundation affords you many advantages, including lower overhead, staff to assist with your charitable goals and a higher tax deduction for any future gift, to name only a few.

FOUR SIMPLE STEPS TO CREATE YOUR FUND

1 Define your charitable goals. Decide if you want family members involved, both now and/or in the future. Consider how much involvement you want in selecting the charitable organizations that will receive grants from your fund. Think about how much you want to give in charitable contributions each year.

2 Contact a Philanthropic Services Officer at the Foundation to discuss the fund option or options (described from pages 16 through 23) that best suit your interests and needs. We can create a personalized plan, including appropriate legal and other documentation, which makes giving simple and relevant.

3 Determine which asset or giving vehicle you will use to start your fund. Evaluate the options of lifetime assets versus planned giving assets — or a combination of the two.

4 Select a name for your fund. Many donors choose a family name, a name that honors or memorializes a loved one or a company name.

¹ Subject to review by the Greater Toledo Community Foundation Supporting Organization

We know that, over time, our community's needs and opportunities change and nonprofit organizations have emerged and grown in large numbers to address these issues. Many organizations seek help with capacity and sustainability — the kind of support they need to achieve their missions.

The Center for Nonprofit Resources helps nonprofit organizations advance their missions through expert guidance and a wide array of services, training and educational opportunities. Services offered by The Center include professional development, technical assistance, on-demand resources, professional services and community engagement.

The Center also offers two professional certificate programs. The Certificate in Nonprofit Management provides the fundamentals an individual needs to build their skills in nonprofit management. The Minority Executive Leadership Certificate program is designed to support emerging nonprofit leaders, specifically minority CEOs/ Executive Directors and staff interested in growing into these positions. A combination of high-quality professional development courses and mentorships provide training and an ongoing support system for personal and professional success.

If you or an agency you care about could benefit from The Center's offerings, you are encouraged to call Milva Valenzuela Wagner, Director, The Center for Nonprofit Resources, at 419.241.9513. Information about professional development offerings can be found on our website at toledocf.org or The Center's website at c4npr.org.

An additional offering, by establishing an organization endowment fund under the auspices of the Foundation, nonprofit organizations are relieved of the administrative burdens and costs associated with holding their own endowment fund, while receiving a steady stream of income for operating, programmatic and other organizational needs.

For information about creating an organization endowment fund, contact Mike Greer in our Philanthropic Services Department at 419.241.5049.

2021 EXISTING FUNDS

Greater Toledo Community Foundation provides professional management and investment of charitable funds, as well as personalized services to meet the giving goals of individuals, families, businesses and nonprofit organizations.

COMMUNITY AND FIELD OF INTEREST FUNDS

Respond to changing times and connect personal values to grantmaking

A Community Fund is the broadest option and leaves the decisions about your gift to the Foundation. You trust the Foundation's extensive experience and knowledge of the community to identify the most pressing needs and effective programs. A Community Fund provides maximum assurance a fund will remain timely and relevant. Grants from these funds are given to qualified organizations to support the well-being and vitality of our region and its residents.

A Field of Interest Fund

allows you to direct funding to specific causes (the environment, youth programs or the arts, for instance) or geographical areas (a town, county or region) that you feel strongly about, yet it does not restrict grants to any one particular organization. Field of Interest Funds support issues or areas that are important to you in perpetuity.

CHOOSING A FUND OPTION THAT IS RIGHT FOR YOU

There are many flexible ways to support your interests—the choice is yours.

How involved do you want to be in your grantmaking? Do you want to give to a specific organization or a specific area of interest? Launch a scholarship to honor or memorialize a loved one? Restrict your giving to northwest Ohio and/or fund internationally? Create or continue your business giving program? Whatever your giving goals, there is a fund option for you.

The Foundation offers a number of fund options for you, your family, businesses and nonprofit organizations. A fund at the Foundation operates like a private foundation, but without the administrative and legal burdens associated with private foundations. The funds are flexible and you decide how much or how little you want to be involved in making grants.

Throughout this section, you'll see descriptions of each type of fund followed by acknowledgement of those in our community who have chosen such a fund to support their philanthropy.

DONOR ADVISED FUNDS

Engage with your giving

A Donor Advised Fund provides maximum flexibility for your grantmaking, allowing designated advisors (named by you) to make recommendations regarding grants from your fund. While you take a more active role in your grantmaking (whether local, national or international), the Foundation facilitates compliance with financial, legal and tax requirements. The Foundation also helps develop grantmaking strategies, articulates funding guidelines and conducts due diligence, relieving you of the administrative responsibilities associated with charitable giving. If you wish, the Foundation helps you identify additional organizations that you might consider supporting.

TYPES OF DONOR ADVISED FUNDS

You have several options:

Individual advised fund • Allows only you to make grant recommendations.

Family advised fund • Provides a simple and popular way for your family to engage in organized philanthropy.

Corporate advised fund • Offers flexible options for your business and/or employees' charitable giving programs. Your company or business can outsource all, or any part, of its charitable giving program to the Foundation for management.

You can endow your fund, requiring that the principal of the fund remains untouched and only a percentage of the annual earnings on the fund are available for grantmaking; or you can create a growth fund (non-endowed) allowing the flexibility to distribute both fund principal and annual earnings, although not below the minimum required fund balance of $10,000.

SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION FUNDS

partner with the Foundation for access to community information

A Supporting Organization is a separate and distinct legal and grant-making entity that is in direct affiliation with the Foundation. It maintains its own board of trustees which has decision-making authority relevant to grant recipients and other matters. A Supporting Organization's alliance with the Foundation reduces administrative, investment and regulatory burdens. Family involvement, individual attention, flexibility, professional staffing and access to community information are among the key reasons that families and businesses create supporting organizations at Greater Toledo Community Foundation.

Every year, Greater Toledo Community Foundation accepts donations of varying amounts from a broad range of individuals who each have their own purposes for giving. Collectively, they help the Foundation achieve its mission to make our region a better place in which to live, work and raise a family. We are grateful, honored and pleased to recognize them in the following lists.

Listed here are contributors to non-operating funds of the Foundation.

Memorial and honorary contributions are listed separately beginning on page 50.

The list of contributors to our annual operating campaign — known as our Friends campaign — can be found on pages 48-49.

GRANTEE SPOTLIGHT GIRLS ON THE RUN

Girls on the Run inspires ALL girls to build confidence and make intentional decisions, while fostering care and compassion for self and others. Trained coaches use physical activity and dynamic discussions to build social, emotional and physical skills in every girl, while encouraging healthy habits for life. In 2021, the Oswald Supporting Organization of the Greater Toledo Community Foundation awarded a grant to Girls on the Run to support programming at six Toledo Public Schools.

GRANTEE SPOTLIGHT THE RIDGE PROJECT

The Ridge Project is a Christian nonprofit agency utilizing a holistic approach in combating generational cycles of poverty, incarceration and entitlement. Primarily they serve ex-offender populations and incarcerated men and their families. Their single goal is that of building a legacy of strong family through a path of honor, discipline and integrity. The Oswald Supporting Organization of the Greater Toledo Community Foundation awarded a grant to this organization in 2021 to support their Film Camp project at the Lucas County Youth Treatment Center.

Create a Fund

GTCF offers customized giving solutions and tax-advantaged strategies. We can help you create a plan that's personal, thorough and effective.

Become a Fundholder

A donor advised fund, named or anonymous, may provide tax benefits and a convenient way to consolidate your giving. You can create a fund that benefits a favorite nonprofit or supports students or a particular cause. GTCF can help you decide what fund type is the best fit for your situation and goals.

What to Give

You can give cash, publicly-traded securities, closely held stock, retirement accounts, interest in a limited liability partnership, life insurance, real estate or private foundation assets. Your professional advisors are part of the process, ensuring coordination across your charitable, financial and estate planning.

Give later

A bequest is the simplest way to leave a legacy of caring for the issues, organizations or community most important to you during your lifetime. Other planned giving options include Charitable Remainder Trusts or Charitable Lead Trusts.

As you plan, GTCF can provide advice on a range of giving options, centered on your charitable priorities.
