About Us

We are a community of donors committed to making our region and the world a better place to call home.

The Foundation is a public charity, 501(c)(3) nonprofit, with more than $363 million in charitable assets composed of 974 individual current funds. Each fund represents a unique charitable giving partnership with an individual, family, business or nonprofit organization.

The Foundation consistently demonstrates a unique capability to connect donors with the opportunity to make a real difference through charitable giving. Since 1973, Greater Toledo Community Foundation has helped area citizens put charitable dollars to work addressing the issues most important to them in the communities they care most about.

Information about planned giving and more information about the Foundation can be found at toledocf.org.

Our Mission

Greater Toledo Community Foundation — a public, charitable foundation — exists to improve the quality of life in the region by:

- Providing a flexible, informed, effective means for donors to achieve their charitable goals in perpetuity
- Addressing the changing needs of the region through efficient, prudent, high impact grantmaking
- Serving as a source of information about and as a catalyst in shaping the region's response to those needs, and
- Facilitating the work of other grantmaking organizations in order to achieve effective and efficient grantmaking practices

Let us show you just how easy, flexible and effective your charitable giving can be. We can help you with the details. Contact us at 419.241.5049 to start making your community a better place.

Excellence. Accountability. Impact.™

Dear Friends,

Hussien Y. Shousher
Chair

Do you think much — if at all — about whether you can access the basic elements of a satisfying life?

For many, the answer is “No.” Safe places to live and enjoy the outdoors, a quality education, enriching cultural experiences, job or business opportunities and the resources needed to raise a family are things we most likely have trusted will be available to us if we “work hard and play by the rules.”

But the profound disruption of the COVID-19 pandemic helped us see that not everyone can have this kind of confidence. The heavy burden placed on the weakest members of society showed just how much we still must do to support access for all.

It was this understanding that led Foundation leadership in 2020 to set aside an unprecedented $200,000 for grant funding of efforts to support equity and access for northwest Ohio's citizens. Through 2024, this commitment will maintain a particular focus on supporting minority-led, permanently staffed nonprofits that proactively implement a grassroots approach to creating a more equitable community.

Keith Burwell
President

In 2022, the Foundation made significant commitments supporting access to resources for those in our community with autism. As you will see on pages 2-5 of this annual report, GTCF and its many fundholders have played a part in making Toledo a national innovator in autism services — and we are well on our way to becoming one of the nation's first cities to be certified as an autism-friendly destination.

This year's report also illustrates how so often, our individual donors' concern for others is informed by difficult personal experiences of their own. Many of our fundholders and supporters have given not just financial resources but also time and energy to pave the way for others to obtain the support they need, and we are grateful for their personal commitment and leadership.

Since 1973, the mission of Greater Toledo Community Foundation has been to improve the lives of everyone in our region through personal philanthropy. Our fundholders not only enjoy a convenient way to manage charitable giving but also can plan for their gifts to continue in perpetuity. As we celebrate our 50th year in 2023, we honor the many individuals and organizations whose generosity is still supporting access for all in northwest Ohio and beyond.

Sincerely,

People with Autism

“We’re seeing a tsunami of autism now,” said Dustin Watkins, executive director of Bittersweet Farms. “Some of this increase is due to a lack of awareness and understanding of the condition in the past — but it is also definitely increasing. Autism is a spectrum and families with people on the spectrum may face all kinds of challenges, no matter where they are on that spectrum.”

But, thanks to the work of visionary leaders in the northwest Ohio autism community, the region affords youth and adults across this spectrum more support and connection than many U.S. cities its size, and those resources are growing. In this annual report, we showcase three innovating organizations that have received Greater Toledo Community Foundation support via family foundations, fundholder gifts and grants.

What is autism?

According to spectrumnews.org, autism was originally identified in 1943 and incorrectly described as a form of childhood schizophrenia and the result of “cold parenting.” As understanding about the condition grew, it was seen as a set of related developmental disorders, and finally as a spectrum condition with wide-ranging degrees of impairment.

Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) is the current term for a group of complex disorders of brain development. These commonly involve:

- social communication challenges,
- repetitive behaviors and, frequently,
- acute sensitivity to stimuli.

Persons with these conditions are often termed neuroatypical. They can be high-functioning and sometimes exceptionally intelligent or creative, while others can experience profoundly debilitating limitations.

right after college. “High behavioral needs require the highest grade of professional support because it is so much about rapport and relationships. It’s a real labor of passion — nobody gets into this kind of work because of the money. But we still have to be competitive to attract skilled professionals and offer quality programs that prospective employees recognize as making a difference.”

Charitable donations are what make those programs possible. “The lion’s share of our funding comes from Medicaid — about 80-85%,” said Dustin. “Gifts from supporters make the crucial difference in the quality of our programs. Many of our core initiatives have been funded by Greater Toledo Community Foundation grants and gifts from donor advised funds.”

Bittersweet’s focus on horticulture, animal care and creative arts is a first-in-the-nation model, and reaps tangible benefits for program participants. “Our largest barrier to service growth is the workforce crisis, which has challenged our field longer and more severely than most,” said Dustin, who joined Bittersweet’s support staff

Bittersweet Farms

As understanding of autism grew throughout the 1970s, many area schools provided classroom education and other services for children whose autism required significant support. But when these children aged out of public education in their late teens, most faced a limited future with aging parents absent peer-group friends or meaningful work.

One special education teacher in Toledo Public Schools, Bettye Ruth Kay, dreamed of a better future for her students. In 1983, that dream became Bittersweet Farms.

Modeling her vision on England’s Somerset Court, the world’s first farmstead community for adults with autism, Bettye began Bittersweet Farms with the help of parents, area businesses and community members. Today, nearly 150 individuals are participating in day programs or living onsite at three different Bittersweet locations in Whitehouse, Lima and Pemberville — which still include some of Bettye’s students from the late 1970s.

early 1950s, autism wasn't even a word yet, let alone a diagnosis. But the Tyners were an exceptional couple. They relentlessly pursued the limited resources available at that time to help their son live his best life — and they had a vision for other families like them.

"In the 1950s and 60s, they were carving new trails," said Dave Tyner, Bob and Suzy's youngest son. "Dad's original idea was 'I want a building where people could go to get what they need.' Mom and Dad knew that if they just had some information, they could have made a huge difference with their own son, and having blazed those trails, they felt they could make a difference for others."

At first, the brick-and-mortar building of Bob's dreams was out of reach — but eventually, the family started the Tyner Foundation in the late 1990s and began fundraising in earnest. In 2004, the Tyners established their foundation as a supporting organization with GTCF and the Great Lakes Center for Autism, which became Avenues for Autism in 2004, now housed in ProMedica's Finnegan Center. Today, the Tyner Foundation is the primary source of non-Medicaid funds for the organization, and the Tyner family remains highly involved in both the fund's and Avenues' governing boards.

Mary Jane Luck, the Tyner's daughter noted, "In a lot of ways, these parents have to reinvent the wheel. Where do you get information? Where do you get a diagnosis — and how do you get in line for one, which itself can take some time? And once you do, it's not a one-size-fits all as far as therapies go. Avenues for Autism streamlines this process for families."

Avenues' Executive Director, Stacy Harper agrees. "No two situations are the same for families with autism, and everyone's journey is different," she said. "Avenues is a place where families can get help, in person or online, with navigating our many area resources to find those that best fit their needs. We also provide highly trained therapists who work with caregivers as well as those on the spectrum."

Many such families have needs that aren't paid for by Medicaid — so the Suzanne Tyner Autism Fund was created specifically to meet needs like these.

Stacy gave an example: "An area family had a child who could not tolerate the tactile stimulation of a shower. They didn't have a bathtub and couldn't afford to pay for one. A grant from this fund covered the cost of a tub and its installation, so the child could bathe comfortably." In 2022, this fund provided roughly $45,000 to more than 30 families for medical and social services, therapies, sensory items, tuition, safety equipment and more.

Bob and Suzy have now passed, and their legacy is being maintained by Dave and Mary Jane, with

Mary Jane Luck and Dave Tyner

Dave's two sons now involved as well. "GTCF has been a huge factor in the growth of Avenues for Autism" said Dave, noting that because he and Mary Jane both live out of town, GTCF's local business connections and guidance have been as important to them as GTCF's management of the Tyner Foundation's funds. He concluded: "In our early days, when it was mainly fundraising, our resources were a total pass-through. Now, as a supporting organization, our foundation can provide a certain amount in perpetuity to Avenues — and more than 90% of the money goes directly to families to pay for services or other needs."

Valentine Theatre

Thanks to the efforts of Destination Toledo, The Ability Center and several area tourism attractions, Toledo is on its way to becoming a Certified Autism Destination city for families nationwide.

The Valentine Theatre is now among these attractions — but this wasn't the initial goal of the Valentine staff when they began exploring autism-friendly programming for children.

"Our Executive Director, Jori Jex, had nominated me to be a panelist on the Ohio Arts Council sustainability grant," said Valentine Development and VSD Coordinator Kelby Sodeman, describing her experience in Columbus. "One of the presentations that stood out to me was a New Albany Symphony program for children with autism called 'Sensory Saturdays.' It made me realize there were whole populations that were missing out on what we had to offer."

Valentine's leadership was enthusiastic about Kelby's report and the possibilities of creating special programming for children with autism. On the advice of former Executive Director of Avenues for Autism Katina Harding, the Valentine created a "retreat space" adjacent to the front lobby where audience members who needed a stimulation break could go during a performance.

Another essential key to an autism-friendly experience was high-quality training for the members of their all-volunteer team of ushers. Suitable programming designed for youngsters with autism was another need. Jori explained how GTCF made both possible: "GTCF had a community builder grant in two amounts — $50,000 and $25,000. Our application for the smaller grant was approved and allowed us to pay for staff and volunteer training. It also covered resources for visitors like headsets and fidget toys and the programming itself, so we could avoid taking on a heavy financial risk as we implemented the program."

Kelby added: "The national touring groups who present our children's theatre were already offering sensory-friendly adaptations of their programs. So, even though there were modifications to the experience, all of our usual families came anyway — they didn't feel like it wasn't for them."

their child to live theatre for fear their child might be too disruptive or that they might be 'shushed' or made to feel uncomfortable. Our mission was to make the Valentine a warm and accommodating place for children with autism and their families to make memories together." ■

Valentine volunteers and staff model headsets that help guests manage the sensory experience of the theatre.

GTCF-funded staff and volunteer training also earned the Valentine a Certified Autism Center™ (CAC) designation. The certification is granted by the International Board of Credentialing and Continuing Education Standards (IBCCES), and supports the effort to make Toledo the second autism-friendly destination city in the U.S.

But it's the joy of children who've been introduced to the experience of live theatre of which the Valentine team is most proud.

"We had tons and tons of compliments!" said Kelby. "For our very first show, I stood where our usual will-call table was to distribute headsets and fidget toys, just letting people know what we were doing. People would say, 'I have a friend whose child has autism — I'm going to let them know about this!' Most families like this have never been able to take

Craig and Cathy Sheets

Easing the future burdens of others

Elizabeth Kubler-Ross observed that beautiful people “do not just happen” — their compassion and concern for others is often rooted in or informed by difficult personal experiences, which sometimes accompany their many blessings. This was certainly true for Craig and Cathy Sheets.

A tax accountant and partner at the Plante Moran accounting firm, Cathy was always a high achiever. “I was a straight-A student and couldn’t understand how some students struggled to grasp things,” she said. But her first child, Sarah, taught her about those struggles: she was born on the autism spectrum with special educational needs. And then, not long after their second child, Rebecca, had begun elementary school, Cathy was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis.

“I had two years where I was asking myself, ‘Why is this happening to me?’” Cathy said. But she also came to deeply appreciate her many blessings through the experience. Following her diagnosis, as she reassessed her demanding personal and professional roles, both her husband Craig and her partners at Plante Moran were supportive. She recalled: “One of my co-workers said to me, ‘You know how you love helping people? Now it’s your turn to let other people feel that love.’”

Cathy’s experience inspired the couple to seek new ways to help others in need. “We were able to manage everything — all the medical bills for me, and for Sarah, too,” she said. “We know there are so many people who need an extra hand. We asked ourselves, ‘How can we do something to help people in the community when they find themselves in that spot?’”

The couple decided to answer that question with a donor advised fund at Greater Toledo Community Foundation. Sometime later, they worked with their GTCF advisor to convert their donor advised fund to a donor advised endowed fund in which gifts are made only from interest on the fund, which enhances its longevity. (For additional details on these differences, see page 19.)

“With the endowed fund, we contribute to the fund to build capital when our tax obligations are at their highest,” Cathy explained. “It enables us to support in perpetuity the kinds of causes that are important to us. It also enables us to bring our girls into our family philanthropy. GTCF provides the oversight and vetting that will make it easy for them to continue our intentions after we are gone.”

Craig and Cathy are looking forward to the time when their endowment will reap rewards for others. “Right now, our focus is on its funding, so we are not thinking about exactly what to fund — and we see that as another benefit of working with GTCF,” she noted. “When future need arises, the money will be there.”

The couple also values the Foundation’s local focus. “Even though I didn’t grow up in Toledo and we’ve since moved away, Toledo is where we raised our family. So, it was very important to me to have that tie,” said Cathy. “Toledo gave us a lot and it has a special place in our hearts.” ■ institutions as well, including St. Anthony Villa, and most recently, the Christ Child Society and as chair of the board of the Toledo Lucas County Public Library.

It was natural, then, that Bob and Sue chose a donor directed pooled fund with Greater Toledo Community Foundation to manage their regular contributions to the many schools and charitable organizations they supported over the years. "Almost all our giving is local," noted Sue. "We chose a donor directed fund so we could specify where all the gifts from our fund would go, whether annual donations or gifts for special projects, such as the creativity lab at the downtown library branch."

Bob has also created two GTCF funds to facilitate fundraising and support for specific causes. The Science Society Fund helps Toledo's Imagination Station refresh its permanent exhibits, and the

When Bob and Sue Savage met at a Catholic young adult convention at New York City's Madison Square Garden, excitement was in the air in more ways than one.

"President Kennedy had come to address the meeting, and everyone was thrilled to see him," said Sue. Bob was certainly pleased to see the president — but he was also there for other sights. "What do young guys like to do? Drink beers and look at the girls!" he chuckled. Sue had caught his eye, and before long, marriage was on the horizon.

Bob's energetic leadership as a student at The University of Toledo had drawn the attention of local political leaders. By the time Bob and Sue met, although he was barely out of college, he had already been elected to his first term on Toledo city council. He served for three consecutive terms from 1963 to 1969 as Toledo's youngest councilman and leading vote-getter. But in 1969, he declined to run again. Both his family and business were growing, along with Bob's role in the community as a business leader — including a term of service on the board of the brand-new Toledo Community Foundation when it was launched in 1973.

As the Savage's six young children began their education, Sue continued the Savage family's public service. Sue took on a variety of volunteer roles in their schools and at other Distinguished Clown Corps Fund helps defray the cost of Toledo's annual holiday parade. Both are funded by membership fees, and in the case of the Clown Corps fund, the yearly dues reserve the member a spot in the holiday parade's clown brigade.

Bob added, "The Community Foundation gives people a convenient way to manage charitable giving, and a good place to put their money to do good work in the community. That's what sold us on being involved at the very beginning, and it hasn't changed — we think it's great." ■

Take a moment to consider the important part you might play in Greater Toledo Community Foundation's work by creating a charitable fund. There are a number of ways to get started, and we invite you to explore them with your family, your professional advisor and with Foundation staff members.

Establishing a Fund

The Foundation offers a variety of ways for you to make donations to reach your philanthropic goals. You can establish your own fund at the Foundation either during your lifetime or through your estate plan. All grants distributed from your fund — today and in the future — are awarded to charities, as determined by you, in the name of your fund.

Your gift to the Foundation may be made in many forms. Corporations and businesses are limited to gifts of cash, securities, closely-held stock, limited partnership interests and real estate. You and your family have even more options to consider.

Vehicles for Giving

A cash gift is tax deductible as provided under current law.

Donations of appreciated publicly-traded securities are accepted. This type of gift avoids capital gains tax and allows the maximum tax deduction for the full market value of the gift. The Foundation also accepts closely-held stock and limited partnership interests.

Gifts of cryptocurrency are an accepted gift option. This type of gift allows the donor to avoid capital gains tax while still supporting your favorite charity. For tax purposes, cryptocurrency is designated as property and is subject to the same rules that apply to noncash charitable gifts.

A bequest in your will is a simple way to leave a lasting legacy.

A life insurance policy can be changed to designate the Foundation as the owner and/or beneficiary of a policy.

Retirement fund accounts are often your largest asset. You can give all or part of these assets to the Foundation, both during your lifetime and/or at your death.

4 Simple Steps to Create Your Fund

1 • Define your charitable goals.

Decide if you want family members involved, both now and/or in the future. Consider how much involvement you want in selecting the charitable organizations that will receive grants from your fund. Think about how much you want to give in charitable contributions each year.

2 • Contact a Philanthropic Services Officer at GTCF.

Discuss the fund option or options (described on pages 17-24) that best suit your interests and needs. We can create a personalized plan, including the appropriate legal and other documentation, which makes giving simple and relevant.

3 • Determine which asset you will use to start your fund.

Evaluate the options of lifetime assets versus planned giving assets – or a combination of the two.

4 • Select a name for your fund.

Many donors choose a family name, a name that honors or memorializes a loved one, or a company name.

Real estate (land, primary residences, vacation homes or farm land) can be donated to the Foundation and deducted at full fair market value, up to 30 percent of your adjusted gross income. The Foundation sells the real estate and the net proceeds capitalize a new fund or are added to an existing fund. Similarly, tangible personal property can be donated to the Foundation, which is also then sold.

A charitable remainder trust allows you (or other named beneficiaries) to receive lifetime income. Upon your death, the remaining principal creates a fund at the Foundation. You receive an immediate charitable deduction for a portion of the gift and avoid capital gains tax.

A charitable lead trust creates income for the Foundation for a specified period, after which the remaining principal is distributed to named beneficiaries. Gift and estate taxes are reduced with this type of gift.

Transfer of a private foundation affords you many advantages, including lower overhead, staff to assist with your charitable goals and a higher tax deduction for any future gift, to name only a few.

Getting Started

To inquire about starting a fund at the Foundation, please contact Mike Greer in our Philanthropic Services Department at 419.241.5049 or Mike.Greer@toledocf.org.

Greater Toledo Community Foundation offers four Centers for Philanthropy through which our professional staff works to meet our donors' diverse needs.

Philanthropic Centers

Foundation staff can help you define, implement and evaluate a giving program that addresses the causes and opportunities that are important to you. Certain benefits and fund options are available through different Centers.

The Center for Individual & Family Philanthropy is designed to meet the unique needs of individuals and families with an approach that emphasizes matching donors with causes of personal interest. Designed to help individuals and families simplify their charitable giving, this Center allows donors to create a permanent legacy, communicate charitable vision and values to children and grandchildren and even involve them in the family's philanthropy today. We also provide expert guidance in defining a philanthropic mission, structuring charitable gifts and putting mission into action. Whether it's a simple gift fund or a supporting organization, a wealth of financial and philanthropic expertise is available. Whatever your charitable goal, we can help you achieve it.

The Center for Corporate & Business Philanthropy is tailored to meet the charitable initiatives of our region's businesses. We are a creative, cost-effective and tax-efficient way for the corporate sector to invest in the community. Designed to help businesses manage community affairs and corporate giving programs, this Center offers expertise in defining philanthropic goals and objectives, establishing a giving program, setting up a charitable fund and leveraging a charitable investment in the community. For business owners and family businesses, the Foundation is the ideal vessel for receiving complicated business assets as charitable gifts, including closely-held stock and business interests.¹ Foundation staff provides the professional expertise to help corporations and business owners make a lasting impact on our community.

Let us show you just how easy, flexible and effective your charitable giving can be. Contact Mike Greer in our Philanthropic Services Department, at 419.241.5049, for more information.

The Center for Private & Family Foundations exists to provide assistance to private, family and corporate foundations and to nonprofit organizations' grantmaking programs. The Foundation has 50 years of experience in administering all aspects of grantmaking programs. With its skilled professional staff, it is uniquely positioned to provide a broad range of advisory, organizational and administrative services to other entities involved in organized philanthropy. Any or all of our services can be tailored to meet the specific needs of the grantmaking organization.

If you, your family members, a client or an organization in which you are involved could benefit from this Center, contact Patrick Johnston, vice president, Community Investments, at 419.241.5049.

First Solar volunteers at 577 Foundation

We know that, over time, our community's needs and opportunities change and nonprofit organizations have emerged and grown in large numbers to address these issues. Many organizations seek help with capacity and sustainability — the kind of support they need to achieve their missions.

The Center for Nonprofit Resources helps nonprofit organizations advance their missions through expert guidance and a wide array of services, training and educational opportunities. Services offered by The Center include professional development, technical assistance, on-demand resources, professional services and community engagement.

The Center also offers two professional certificate programs. The Certificate in Nonprofit Management provides the fundamentals an individual needs to build their skills in nonprofit management. The Minority Executive Leadership Certificate program is designed to support emerging nonprofit leaders, specifically minority CEOs/Executive Directors and staff interested in growing into these positions. A combination of high-quality professional development courses and mentorships provide training and an ongoing support system for personal and professional success.

If you or an agency you care about could benefit from The Center's offerings, you are encouraged to call Milva Valenzuela Wagner, director, The Center for Nonprofit Resources, at 419.241.9513. Information about professional development offerings can be found on our website at toledocf.org or The Center's website at c4npr.org.

An additional offering, by establishing an organization endowment fund under the auspices of the Foundation, nonprofit organizations are relieved of the administrative burdens and costs associated with holding their own endowment fund, while receiving a steady stream of income for operating, programmatic and other organizational needs.

For information about creating an organization endowment fund, contact Mike Greer in our Philanthropic Services Department at 419.241.5049.

We Can Help

We share our donors' commitment to building healthy communities and promoting the responsible stewardship of resources. Whether you choose to open a fund that creates an immediate impact in the community, a permanent endowment to address ongoing needs or a legacy for your community, or use the Foundation's experience to administer some or all aspects of a grantmaking program, the Foundation can help make your charitable giving easy and effective.

Learn More

To learn more about how we can help you customize a giving plan to meet your charitable goals, contact Mike Greer in our Philanthropic Services Department at 419.241.5049, or visit our website where each Center is more clearly defined at toledocf.org.

Choosing a fund option that is right for you

Existing Funds

There are many flexible ways to support your interests — the choice is yours.

Community and Field of Interest Funds

Respond to changing times and connect personal values to grantmaking

A Community Fund is the broadest option and leaves the decisions about your gift to the Foundation. You trust the Foundation's extensive experience and knowledge of the community to identify the most pressing needs and effective programs. A Community Fund provides maximum assurance a fund will remain timely and relevant. Grants from these funds are given to qualified organizations to support the well-being and vitality of our region and its residents.

A Field of Interest Fund allows you to direct funding to specific causes (the environment, youth programs or the arts, for instance) or geographical areas (a town, county or region) that you feel strongly about, yet it does not restrict grants to any one particular organization. Field of Interest Funds support issues or areas that are important to you in perpetuity.

How involved do you want to be in your grantmaking? Do you want to give to a specific organization or a specific area of interest? Launch a scholarship to honor or memorialize a loved one? Restrict your giving to northwest Ohio and/or fund internationally? Create or continue your business giving program? Whatever your giving goals, there is a fund option for you.

The Foundation offers a number of fund options for you, your family, businesses and nonprofit organizations. A fund at the Foundation operates like a private foundation, but without the administrative and legal burdens associated with private foundations. The funds are flexible and you decide how much or how little you want to be involved in making grants.

Throughout this section, you'll see descriptions of each type of fund followed by acknowledgment of those in our community who have chosen such a fund to support their philanthropy.

Designated Funds

Support effective organizations

You support one or more specific charitable organizations or institutions in perpetuity. A Designated Fund may help a single arts program, a food bank or a children's program during your life and after your death. If a beneficiary organization ceases to exist, loses its tax-exempt status or changes its mission, the Foundation redirects support to a similar organization to honor your original intent.

Donor Advised Funds

Engage with your giving

You take a more active role in your grantmaking (whether local, national or international).

A Donor Advised Fund provides maximum flexibility for your grantmaking, allowing designated advisors (named by you) to make recommendations regarding grants from your fund.

The Foundation facilitates compliance with financial, legal and tax requirements, as well as helps develop grantmaking strategies, articulates funding guidelines and conducts due diligence, relieving you of the administrative responsibilities associated with charitable giving. If you wish, the Foundation helps you identify additional organizations that you might consider supporting.

You have several options:

Individual advised fund - Allows only you to make grant recommendations.

Family advised fund - Provides a simple and popular way for your family to engage in organized philanthropy.

Corporate advised fund - Offers flexible options for your business and/or employees' charitable giving programs. Your company or business can outsource all, or any part, of its charitable giving program to the Foundation for management.

You can endow your fund, requiring that the principal of the fund remains untouched and only a percentage of the annual earnings on the fund are available for grantmaking; or you can create a growth fund (non-endowed) allowing the flexibility to distribute both fund principal and annual earnings, although not below the minimum required fund balance of $10,000.

Supporting Organizations

partner with the Foundation for access to community information

A Supporting Organization

is a separate and distinct legal and grantmaking entity that is in direct affiliation with the Foundation. It maintains its own board of trustees which has decision-making authority relevant to grant recipients and other matters. A Supporting Organization's alliance with the Foundation reduces administrative, investment and regulatory burdens. Family involvement, individual attention, flexibility, professional staffing and access to community information are among the key reasons that families and businesses create supporting organizations at Greater Toledo Community Foundation.

Greater Toledo Community Foundation awards grants from a variety of funds that reflect the charitable interests of its donors and the diverse needs within our community. The following organizations received grants, totaling more than $20.7 million, in 2022.

Our region's nonprofit organizations are our partners in making life better for all of us in northwest Ohio and southeast Michigan. We're pleased to be able to provide funding through our grantmaking programs that enables these organizations and those beyond our region to be more effective in carrying out their missions and address critical needs in our communities.

GTCF's Commitment to Supporting Access for All

The Board of Trustees of Greater Toledo Community Foundation (GTCF) approved plans for an Equity & Access Initiative in 2020 to proactively address the concerns raised by communities that are disproportionately impacted by inequity and lack of access in the Greater Toledo area. The Foundation has committed grant funding toward this effort, and through 2022 awarded $451,800 in grants through three rounds of funding to 19 nonprofit organizations over two years. The GTCF Board of Trustees voted to commit an additional $100,000 in 2023 to local nonprofits from minority-led, smaller permanent staffed, novice and established nonprofits that incorporate a proactive grassroots approach to fund new and existing projects that align with the focus of the fund.

More information about GTCF's Equity & Access Initiative Fund can be found at toledocf.org/equity-access-initiative.

Tyner Foundation

Great Lakes Collaborative for Autism dba Avenues for Autism

Every year, Greater Toledo Community Foundation accepts donations of varying amounts from a broad range of individuals who each have their own purposes for giving.

Collectively, they help the Foundation achieve its mission to make our region a better place in which to live, work and raise a family. We are grateful, honored and pleased to recognize them in the following lists.

Girl Scouts

Contributors

Listed here are contributors to non-operating funds of the Foundation. Memorial and honorary contributions are listed separately beginning on page 52. The list of contributors to our annual operating campaign – known as our Friends campaign – can be found on pages 50-51.

ADDRESS CORRECTION REQUESTED

A Tribute to Pam Howell-Beach

Pam Howell-Beach, president of Toledo Community Foundation from 1990-2003, passed away on July 28, 2022 at the age of 65 after a 13-month battle with pancreatic cancer.

She succeeded Miriam Bixler as Director of Toledo Community Foundation. After 13 years with the Foundation, she left to become Executive Director of the Stranahan Foundation.

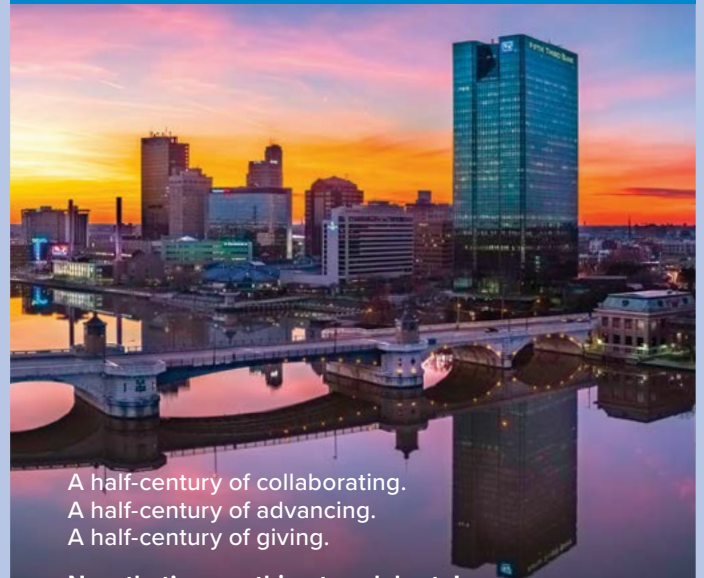

"Everything we have accomplished at Greater Toledo Community Foundation over the past 20 years occurred only because we have stood on the shoulders of Pam's work with the Foundation. She created the pathway upon which we walk today and she will be deeply missed," said Keith Burwell, president of Greater Toledo Community Foundation.
